Benefits

- build a repository of user-created items
- create a variety of item types including classifying, dropdown, multiple choice, open response, selectable text, sequencing, and short answer
- easy-to-use review and certification tools supporting collaboration
- options to build items for formatives and/or benchmarks
- item sorting, searching, and sharing capabilities

BASIC All users have free access to Item Bank Builder-Basic which supports the creation, review, and certification of formative items. Items are organized by standard within a customizable folder system and can also be viewed in a Data Grid with sorting and search capabilities. Use Item Bank Builder-Basic to create your own personal item bank for classroom assessments or to create item banks you share with other educators in your school or district. The Basic package comes with a Galileo license.

ADVANCED Item Bank Builder-Advanced is provided for a nominal fee and enables school and district educators to create both formative items and benchmark items. Benchmark items can be used to create district/charter-wide assessments and are included in ATI's advanced statistical analyses procedures yielding DL scores and other information including item parameters. Users upgrading to Advanced, can choose to participate in two ATI professional development sessions focused on best practices in item development for reliable, valid assessments. Call a Field Services Coordinator for the Advanced pricing.

Item Bank Builder tools supports the creation, review, and certification of items.

ATI professional development options pair expert guidance related to item development with hands on practice with Item Bank Builder tools.

Contact your Field Services Coordinator for package and professional development pricing.
